PUSHED FROM A MOVING TRAIN

God gives incredible courage in persecution. A believer from Asia shares his story. "With Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press neatly packed in my shoulder bag, I boarded the jam-packed train to the neighboring village. In the rush, my bag tore and the booklets spilled out. Some of the other passengers did not like what they saw. They began angrily accusing me of converting people to Christianity. One pushed me out of the moving train before I could escape. I don't know how long I was unconscious before I opened my eyes in the hospital. It took seven months to recover and resume my ministry. But by God's grace, I wasn't afraid. I went back and planted 6 churches in the very same village where I was attacked."

God gives incredible courage in persecution. A believer from Asia boarded a train with World Missionary Press Scripture booklets in his backpack, but it fell and ripped open. The other passengers were furious, and someone shoved him out of the moving train. It took 7 months to recover, but then he fearlessly returned to that same village and planted a church.

IN THE BEGINNING

Can Genesis 1:1 lead someone to Christ? Sunita and her husband were passing out "The Way to God" Scripture booklet from World Missionary Press in Asia. An elderly man and his son stopped by, and the son opened the booklet and read the first verse. "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth." He was struck by the truth that there is one God who created the entire universe. His face lit up and he sent a picture of it to his friends. The father asked the couple to pray for them. They all knelt down, and both men confessed their sins and asked God to save them. Sunita and her husband thanked God to see the joy in their faces. To them it was a simple verse, but it changed these men's lives forever.

A VILLAGE TRANSFORMED

One Scripture booklet from World Missionary Press brought light to an entire village. Pastor G was distributing booklets during a train ride in Asia. One man named Sai read "Help from Above" and invited the pastor into his train compartment. He was intrigued by what he'd read and wanted to learn more. They talked so long that Pastor G missed his stop, and Sai asked him to follow up soon. A week later, Pastor G visited Sai's home. Sai shared that the verses had brought him profound peace, and he wanted his friends and family to know Jesus too. Pastor G praised the Lord for the opportunity to share booklets and pray with them. Soon after that, Sai's family started a mission station in the village.

ORGANIC CHURCH GROWTH

The Word of God is the key to church planting. Ken shares how he uses World Missionary Press Scripture booklets in Honduras. "At every stage of church growth, the Word of God is there for us. We share it door to door. Someone reads it, repents, and is born again. He begins to seek other Christians, and they start meeting together for discipleship. As more people join, God guides them to a pastor, and an official church is planted. However, not many can afford Bibles, so Scripture booklets are a valuable resource. They are used as curriculum for Sunday Schools, children's church, and adult ministries. World Missionary Press also makes Bible studies for those who want to go deeper into God's Word. We will never understand the impact of these materials until we get to heaven."

AFTER SCHOOL EVANGELISM

How can Christians reach young people with the gospel? Believers across the US are sharing Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press with kids and teens. One couple in Arizona shares them with students as they leave school. Some students don't seem interested, but they take the booklet home anyway. Others come back each week to learn more and pray together. In Washington DC, one man plays the trumpet for children after school and offers them Scripture booklets. The kids like the colorful pictures and are open to hearing the gospel. Some of them can't read, so they take the booklets back to their parents, helping to spread the gospel even farther.

CROSS-CONTINENTAL OUTREACH

Witnessing in one country could impact someone in another country. Andy was distributing World Missionary Press Scripture booklets at a truck stop in Texas. The owner asked him to pray for her brother in Asia who had recently suffered a stroke and was not doing well. Andy gave her some Scripture booklets in her native language, and she sent them to her brother. Later she saw Andy at a football game and approached him with tears of joy. "God is great," she said. "My brother is off all medication and is able to walk now. He has also come to Christ for salvation!" His sister showed Andy pictures of him smiling and praying to his new Father. Their whole family gave glory to God for his healing.

WE CANNOT STOP

Believers are standing strong for the gospel in Nigeria. One missionary shares, "Right now the hostility towards the gospel is a grievous concern for the body of Christ. One pastor had his house broken into and burned. He had just received a shipment of Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press, and now they are all gone. But we cannot stop. We cannot abandon the field and the disciples we have raised there. We keep going to those areas despite the hardships we're facing, and we have developed secret strategies to reach people. Instead of speaking with them face to face, we will drop the literature near their house. As a result, some people have started calling us secretly to learn more. We use this method to disciple new believers."
